Cooperating partners

The location of Jena, the German Optical Valley, is endued with unique potential of tradition and experience. The combination of abstract and applied research and science together with a powerful industry is outstanding within Germany. Besides our regional network we can rely on partners worldwide.

Weltoffenes Thüringen

Successful space missions and products require people from different nations, cultures and world views to work together. Therefore, we are part of "Weltoffenes Thüringen", an initiative of a multitude of companies and individuals that are committed to a open-minded Thuringia
